C. APPLICATION

This Policy applies to the CCEMC’s directors, officers, employees and Consultants and to any other individuals, who may, by virtue of their relationship with the CCEMC, have or be given access to Confidential Information.

D. PRIVACY

Confidential Information that is collected, used or disclosed by the CCEMC will be handled in a manner that recognizes both the right of the individual to have his or her Confidential Information protected and the need of the CCEMC to collect, use and disclose such information for purposes that are reasonable.

The CCEMC must comply with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, RSA 2000, c. F-25) in the course of performing duties and functions and exercising powers delegated to it by the Minister of Environment. All Data and records in the custody or under the control of the CCEMC that are required in the performance of duties or functions or the exercise of powers delegated to the CCEMC by the Minister of Environment are subject to the Records Management Regulation, Alta Reg. 244/2001.

Principles

CCEMC follows ten principles:

1. Accountability - CCEMC is responsible for Confidential Information under its control and will designate persons responsible for CCEMC's compliance with this Policy.
2. Identify purposes - Before or as Personal Information is collected, CCEMC will identify and advise the individual why it is needed and how it will be used or disclosed.
3. Consent - the knowledge and consent of the individual are required for the collection, use or disclosure of Personal Information, with a few exceptions as described later.
4. Limit collection - CCEMC will not collect Confidential Information indiscriminately and will avoid actions that may mislead others about reasons for collecting Confidential Information.
5. Limit use, disclosure and retention - Confidential Information will not be used or disclosed for purposes other than those for which it was collected, except with the consent of the person's organization providing it or as required by law. Confidential Information will be retained only as long as necessary for fulfillment of those purposes.
6. Accuracy - Confidential Information will be as accurate, complete and current as necessary.
7. Safeguards - Confidential Information will be protected against loss, theft, unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use or modification regardless of the format in which it is held.
8. Openness - CCEMC will make available to others specific information about its policies and practices related to management of Confidential Information.
9. Individual access - when requested in writing, CCEMC will allow an individual, with some exceptions, to access his or her own Personal Information and advise the individual on how the information has been used and to whom it has been disclosed. The individual may correct or amend any Personal Information if accuracy and completeness is challenged and found deficient.
10. Provide recourse - an individual may address a challenge concerning compliance with the above noted principles to the persons accountable for the CCEMC's compliance.

Procedures

1. CCEMC will obtain an individual or organization's consent when it collects, uses or discloses Confidential Information.
2. Confidential Information collected is to be restricted to information actually required.

3. Confidential Information can only be used for purposes for which it was collected. If needed for another purposes, specific consent for incremental purpose must be obtained.
4. Confidential Information must be kept current and accurate.
5. When no longer required, Confidential Information will be made anonymous or destroyed appropriately.
6. Individuals have the right to access their own Personal Information held by the CCEMC and to challenge its accuracy.

E. DATA SECURITY

Data security is a necessity to the CCEMC because Data represents a concentration of valuable assets in the form of Confidential Information which is also proprietary to the CCEMC or its Proponents. Security therefore must focus on controlling unauthorized access to Data.

Each director, officer or Consultant who is or may be granted access to Data or Confidential Information is responsible for maintaining the privacy, security and confidentiality of that information and must do so in compliance with this Policy.

Principles

When using the CCEMC's Data or Confidential Information, the CCEMC's directors, officers, employees and Consultants must:

- (a) protect the Confidential Information and Data from unauthorized access
- (b) not leave laptops, mobile phones, personal digital assistants containing any Confidential Information or Data or any other electronic device unattended or unsecured
- (c) use passwords which are difficult to guess and keep password confidential, passwords should not be with anyone and changed regularly
- (d) protect Confidential Information and do not disclose such information without authorization
- (e) do not violate any third party's intellectual property, privacy or other rights
- (f) do not disable or disclose CCEMC enabled security features including firewalls and antivirus programs

F. CONFIDENTIALITY

1. All CCEMC employees and Consultants who are given access to Data or Confidential Information must execute a Confidentiality Agreement with the CCEMC.
2. Directors and officers with the CCEMC are bound by this Policy, the Conflict of Interest Policy and the CCEMC's governance and accountability framework.
